Mrs. Wood Arrives

Mrs. Wood Arrives.

Mrs. Mary I. Wood of Portsmouth. N. H., manager of the bureau of information for the general federation, arrived yesterday afternoon over the Los Angeles thuited and will remain at the Hotel Ptah as the guest of the local hospitality committee until this afternoon, when she will leave for San Francisco by way of the Western Pacific.

the Western Pacific.

If I can keep my eyes off of your heantiful city long enough, said Mrs. Wood to a representative of The Tribune, as she looked from the window of her room at the Hotel Utah yesterday afternoon. I will be giad to answer any question you may ask, for it is my business to answer the questions of the one million women belonging to the federation. Naturally, I am an expert in the line of question answering.

I do not pretend that I can answer all the questions these million women ask me, but I can usually put them to line with the proper source of information.

The information bureau was estab the information succai was estimated seven years ago under the direction of Mrs. Sarah Pratt Decker, who was at that time president of the federation. I was then one of the federation directors and was put in charge of the bureau. It was located in Portsmouth, because that chanced to be my home.

in Portsmouth, because that chanced to be my home.

The bureau gives suggestions for club programmes and directions for all sorts of club activity. The work represented by thirteen departments of the federation is advertising by mailing to various clubs over the country slips outlining what each represents, and so the burean has considerable to do with moiding club sentiment. The information given out is more effective than erstuitous information is, because it is given in response to some special need.

For Mrs. Pennypacker.

When asked which she coundered the strongest candidate for the presidency of the federation of the two announced aspirants for office, Mrs. Wood said that personally she would vote for Mrs. Pennypacker, and believed she would be elected. She added:

officially I have no opinion to express in the matter, but from my personal viewpoint it looks as if Mrs. Pennyracker was the strongest candidate. She will undoubtedly get the entire vote of the southern delegation, as well as the support of many other sections. The fact that Mrs. Carpenter is indersed by the New York Soroels club is not in her favor, since two previous candidates inve been elected on the indersement of the Soroels.

Outcome Uncertain.

It has been rumored that owing to the fact that neither Mrs. Carpenter hor Mrs. Pennypacker is especially enthusiastic on the subject of suffrage, that a suffrage candidate would be introduced. Inasmuch as suffrage is being aglisted so extensively at the present time. I do not know how true this is. I do not believe that it would be a wise move from the fact that there is such a difference of opinion on the suffrage question in the federation. While I am myse f a strong advocate of suffrage, I co not think it would be well to make it an issue in the federation.

Noted Woman Who Is Visitor To the City

MRS. MARY I. WOOD.

The leading purpose of the federa-tion is humanitarian, and I believe that this purpose to be brought about by the betterment of social and civic conditions, will be accomplished in the natural course of events, per-laps by suffrage, perhaps otherwise. Anyway, the means of its accomplish-ment is incidental and not of impor-tance as an issue in federation inter-ests.

Likes Salt Lake City.

I am disappointed that the blennial is not to be held in Salt Lake. I feel that I would have liked to remain here for the ten days of the meeting as I have always considered this one of the most interesting places in the United States, although the trip to California will, of course, be a pleasant one.

That Salt Lake City may become the convention city of the intermountain west and a rival to Denver, Col., San Francisco, Cal., and other Pacific coast cities, for the entertainment of delegations, or at least that a serious effort toward that goal will be made by the city commissioners is indicated by the unofficial ac tion of that body yesterday upon receipt from Harper J. Dininny, city attorney, of a communication stating that the $5000 appropriation for the entertainment of he delegates to the Transmississippi and National Irrigation congresses was legal and could be made for the purpose and under the conditions for which it was recently requested by a committee consist-ing of members of the Commercial club and business men and bankers of the Immediately upon receipt of the information from the legal department, Warren C. Bogue, city purchasing agent, was netified to commence immediate inquiry of different cities where large conventions are entertained as to where decorations are entertained and what plans are carried out for the erection of decorations and lighting effects which can readily be put in place and removed before and after conventions.

Will Act Promptly.

Will Act Promptly.

As soon as Mr. Bogue receives replies to his communications it is proposed to hold a conference with the Commercial club committee and determine upon what shall be chosen for this city. The plans of the commisioners themselves have not yet taken shape but it is expected that something in the nature of a "welcome" sign for both depots and special signs emblematic of the city and state will also be ordered. A large number of flags and banners are also to be included in the decorative scheme. In all probability local merchants will be asked to place orders for special convention signs through the general order of fle city. The decorations are to be the property of the city under the plan which is now proposed and are to be given for the free use of any convention which may come to the city excepting for the cost of erection which is not expected to exceed $200 in any one case.

The money originally appropriated was divided into two equal parts, one half for the Transmississippi congress and the other for the National Irrigation congress. However under the plan devised it is expected that the whole amount will be expended for the decoration of the city for both conventions with possibly one or two special designs for each occasion.

May Aid Plumbers.

Recently the Master Plumbers' association of this city made a request for the appropriation of $2500 for the entertainment of its delegations which will arrive early next month. This appropriation was held over pending the receipt of the opinion rendered yesterday.

Attorney Dininny does not indicate in his opinion, which was given directly to City Auditor W. H. Shearman, whether the "plumbers" appropriation would be legal but it is expected that an early opinion will be given in that case also. If it cannot be made in the form requested it is expected that a rush order will be given for the decorations required for the two later conventions in order that a part of them at least may be in place for the plumbers.

Another phase of the movement which it is expected will be later taken up by the commission in conjunction with property owners on South Temple, Main, State and Third South streets, is a combination and Third South streets, is a combination lighting effect for special occasions in connection with the installation of the many arc lights on those thoroughares which are to be lighted on July 6 with ap-been aired in the district court at in-tervals for more than a year. Nearly fifteen months ago Joanna Pike was awarded an interlocutory decree from William Pike by Judge George tr-Armstrong, the court ordering alimony paid in the sum of $50 a month. Pike paid the amount until a little more than two months ago. He then refused to make any further payment and was cited on an order to show cause.

Cause of Punishment.

Two weeks ago Pike told Judge Morse he could not raise the money, although he admitted that he owned a piece of farm land that was conservatively worth more than $6500, which was unencumbered. The court ordered him to borrow the money and pay the arrears or come into court on June 14 and show that he had made a reasonable effort. He neither paid the money nor came to court, and he was arrested on a bench warrant and was later released upon a deposit of $100

Yesterday Pike said he had tried to raise the money and had failed. The court thought the effort not to have been reasonable, and ordered him locked up until the alimony was paid. Pike then discovered that he could get the money.

Joseph Young, after spending a week in jail, decided yesterday afternoon that he would be able within the next two weeks to square his alimony account with his wife, and Judge Morse ordered him to report his progress on July 5.

Failed to Appear.

Young failed to appear in answer to an order to show cause on June 7, and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. ## COMMISSIONER DONE ISSUES A WARNING

Charges That Certain Insurance Agents Are Exceeding Authority in Statements.

In regard to alleged misrepresentations of the solvency of certain insurance companies made by some insurance agents in this state. Willard Done, state insurance commissioner, issued the following statement yesterday:

itac commissioner, issued the following statement yesterday:

It has recently come to the attention of the insurance department that a few life insurance agents have been casting doubt, chiefly by innuesido, on the solvency and integrity of legal reserve companies authorized to do business in Utah. Also that in their zeal for business they are making unfair and misleading comparisons with other companies as to expenses of management, dividend payments, interest carnings and other elements, using such statements as guarantees of future profits to policyholders, to the disadvantage of competing companies and agents. In some instances policyholders have been disturbed and disantistied by such representations, the lapsing of policies and disantisfaction in the insurance as an institution resulting therefrom.

Notice is hereby served that the commissioner of insurance resents, as a reflection on the efficiency of his office, intimations that he is permitting legal reserve companies to operate in the state which are insolvent or approaching insolvency. He will hold any agent responsible for statements authenticated to him as companing from such agent and will visit the full penalty on offenders upon presentation of due proof. The ruling is hereby made that when the agent of a company casts discredit and doubt on companing companies and arouses disastisfaction in the minds of present or prospective policyholders, especially to the extent of destroying faith in the solvency of legal reserve insurance companies, such act constitutes misrepresentation as defined in section 48 of the insurance code. The pensity is revocation of license and the turning of the offending agent over to the courts for prospection and punishment.

Perhaps "Bill" was partially re ponsible for the excitement that attended his reception. You see, "Bill" had wooed and won a beautiful and accomplished young lady whose home was in Iowa. The natural and very commendable outcome of "Bill's" succommendable outcome of "Bill's" suc-cessful courtship was a wedding. But "Bill" made a mistake when he sought to keep the return of himself and his bride a secret. "Bill" didn't know bride a secret. ### Lay in Rice Supply.

First off, they bought a whole sack of rice, for which they paid two bardcarned silver dollars. Working in squads and relays, they scattered the rice in every place where the bridgroom could possibly stand or sit when he and his bride returned. Therefore it was also that the apartments in the Kensington prepared for Mr. and Mrs. Leary were liberally besprinkled with rice. The closets were filled with it. The curtains were accorded generous The curtains were accorded generous handfuls. The bed received attention. Therefore, it was, too, that the pon-derous tomes in "Bill's" law office were given the rice cure. When Mr. Leary, in pursuit of some precedent, takes down the Massachusetts report, confident of finding an authority on pp. 762 Commonwealth vs. Jones, he s likely to be deluged with a shower of rice, for between the leaves of the law books there lurk vast quantities of rice. Ibid. and supra. are fairly aching to belch forth little white kernels.

Mr. and Mrs. Leary were assigned to the tonneau of one of the cars. The other was occupied by Mr. Leary's zealous friends and numerous sacks of rice.

UTAH DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE HAS MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Utali Development league was held late yesterday afternoon at the Commercial club. J. M. Kirkham presiding. The principal business of the session consisted in listening to the appeal of J. Preston Creer of Spanish Fork, who asked for the co-operation of the league in making the celebration of the opening of the big Strawberry irrigation project on July 2 a great success. The members present voted to lend all necessary assistance to this occasion.

Members of the league decided not to take part in the Land Show exhibits to be held at Chicago the latter part of November, for the reason that they would derive no material benefit therefrom. The board appointed Fred C. ## UTAH ENGINEERS TO ADOPT NEW RULES

Proposed Modified Form of As Guests of the Elli Constitution May Cause Several Vital Changes.

The Utah Society of Engineers Friday evening held one of the most important sessions of its history, for the nembers had under consideration and discussion the new constitution which was presented by President R. K. Brown and the executive committee This constitution was thoroughly dis cussed by the members, and it will come up for final disposition at the regular meeting of the society in Sep-tember.

One of the most striking features of this new constitution, if the same eventually is adopted, is the provision for associate members and junior members as distinguished from regular and honorary members. An associate is a phanage and the Orphar person who, by scientific attainments or training, is capable of co-operating with engineers in scientific work, and one who by ability and dignity would one who by ability and dignity would principal streets. one who by ability and dignity would be a valuable member of the society A junior is any person under the age of 18 and not over 28 years of age, of 18 and not over 28 years of age, who may be the engineer in embryo, such as students, who will be given the advantage of all the privileges of membership except the right to vote and hold office until such time as they may be eligible and desirous for full membership. The associate will likewise not have the privileges of voting or holding office, but eligible for all other benefits of the association.

The business session occupied nearly the entire evening, and owing to the lateness of the hour Prof. Lyman, who was scheduled to read a paper on "The was scheduled to read a paper on 'The Use of Weir Measurements of the Flow of Streams,' gave only a brief outline of his subject, after the society exacted the promise from him to give the entire paper at some future meet-
